NEW INDUSTRY SEEKS TO LOCATE HERE

ANOTHER GAS PLANT DESIROUS OF LOCATING IN WILMINGTON

Mrs. David Brisk appeared before the Board of Selectmen, Monday, representing her husband, to apply for a license to process, store and distribute a new type of gas called "Actogen". The gas is similar to acetylene gas, but according to Mrs. Brisk, not as explosive.

Mrs. Brisk had a letter from the Board of Appeals which stated that they had held a hearing on June 6 which no objectors to the proposed operation attended. The appeal board referred to a pamphlet that gave comparable explosive qualities of this and other gases and stated that on the basis of this report they could not refuse the appeal, and so gave their consent, subject to improvements on the property.

As is customary in cases of storage of inflammables, the Board of Selectmen will hold a public hearing on July 22 to further investigate the matter. Abbutors of the property located across Eames St. from the National Polychemical Co., will be notified.

The Board of Selectmen had no previous knowledge of the proposal, having had no decision from the Board of Appeals.

Mrs. Brisk explained that the operation at the plant will consist of injecting two substances, Iso-pentane and Ethel Oxide into cylinders which are then taken to another location and filled with propane gas. The tanks are then to be brought back to the Eames St. location and stored and distributed from this point.

NEW ENGLAND GAS CO. HEARING THURSDAY

The second Board of Appeal's hearing for the New England Gas Co. is scheduled for Thursday, July 11. The last hearing, in March, resulted in the refusal of permission to locate on land owned by the company on Main St.

A court action started by the gas company recently ended with the announcement of an agreement among those involved to hold another hearing and try to come to an out of court settlement.

While other papers have reported that one member of the planning board had not agreed to the hearing, reliable sources report that since no meeting was held, no vote was taken and therefore this is in error. The same source also reports that at least one member of the planning board maintains that this second hearing is definitely and absolutely illegal.

The New England Gas Co. was invited by former Town Officials to locate here in 1952 and sold them part of the Old Town Farm. The planning board at this time agreed that they should settle here. When the company applied for a building permit in the spring of this year they were informed that the new zoning laws rescinded any former ruling.

ACCIDENT CLAIMS LIFE OF FORMER WILMINGTON RESIDENT

Dorothy Gale Boyle, 15, formerly of Birchwood Rd., North Wilmington who moved recently with her family to San Jose, Calif. was killed in an automobile accident in San Jose on Sunday, July 7.

Dorothy is being survived by her parents, Daniel and Katherine (Bienvenue) Boyle, one brother James and two sisters, Susan and Sharon. She is also being survived by her aunt, Mrs. Joseph DiStasio, of Billerica, and her uncle, Thomas Boyle of Birchwood Rd., North Wilmington.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday, at 8:00 p.m. from the W.S. Cavanaugh and Son Funeral Home on Main St. Solemn High Mass was celebrated at St. Thomas' Church at 9:00.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of W.S. Cavanaugh and Son. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH SEEN IN THE NEAR FUTURE

On Monday evening, July 1, members of the Board of Trustees and the Finance Committee of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, met with officials of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention at the home of Ed Spinney on Lawrence Rd. The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate in the early stages of the building campaign for the new church.

Representing the Massachusetts Baptist Convention was Dr. Isaac Higginbotham, Interior Executive Secretary, and Rev. Charles Forsberg, Director of the Town and Country Department of the Massachusetts Convention. After serving with the Mass. Baptist Convention for 30 years, Dr. Higginbotham retired two years ago and was succeeded by Dr. Edwin Tullec. Dr. Tullec recently was appointed as General Director of the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention and Dr. Higginbotham has once again returned to serve the convention.

Earlier Monday afternoon, Dr. Higginbotham and Rev. Forsberg visited the site of the new church which is where Dr. Miriam Hosmer up to July 1, has conducted her medical practice. Both men were very enthusiastic with the location. Dr. Arl and Dirlam, architect for the Wilmington Baptist shares their enthusiasm and has tentatively set the first of the new year for ground breaking.

The convention officials were very pleased with the reports of the progress of the Wilmington church, both in the spiritual and material aspects. In the first year of the church's history, 71 people joined the church, 33 of this number having been baptized by Rev. Eliot Castillo, the church's pastor. The balance already having been baptized by immersion, came into the membership by letter or on profession of their Christian experience. Over the first years period, the church, in its overall ministry has been directly or indirectly used in bringing about 150 men, women and young people to "make a decision to receive Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord". This has been accomplished through the regular preaching ministry, special evangelistic services, the ministry of three B.Y.F. gospel teams and the enthusiastic effort of the laymen of the church in personal soul-winning. Currently the church is conducting a Bible Investigation Correspondence Course for people all over the state who have been connected through the church's overall ministry.

On Sunday, July 21, the church is planning to hold an outdoor Baptismal Service at Silver Lake. This undoubtedly will be one of the most impressive services in the church's brief history.

Church attendance for the past three months has averaged over one hundred for the morning services and about 55 for the evening services. The fact which gladdens the hearts of the Wilmington Baptists is the excellent attendance at the Tuesday night "Hour of Power" services which is increasing at the time and now is attended by over 30 people.

At last Monday night's meeting, the convention officials confirmed plans of the convention for pastors of new Baptist Churches. Wilmington Baptist are very grateful for this kindness which undoubtedly will prove of great value to the church.

Those present at the meeting besides Dr. Higginbotham and Rev. Forsberg were Mrs. Jane Lefavour, Mrs. Ethel Smith, Mrs. Judson

HOUSING AUTHORITY PRESENTS APPLICATION TO SELECTMEN

The Wilmington Housing Authority met with the Board of Selectmen on Monday to ask the Board's approval of the Authority's application for Urban Renewal for Wilmington Square.

Chairman William Smith of the Housing Authority presented the map of the area, roughly that bounded by the B and M RR, Church, Middlesex and Adelaide Sts., and copies of their reports for the selectmen's consideration. The Authority has done all the preliminary work and now needs only the approval of the Board of Selectmen to file the application with the Federal Agency.

Selectman Charles Black suggested that before any action is taken by the Board of Selectmen, the Town Counsel, Phillip Buzzell, should be asked to rule on the legality of all phases of the proposal. Mr. Smith asked if this meant asking whether the Housing Authority itself was legally begun. Mr. Black told him that only the current matter was in question. Mr. Black assured the Housing Board that he was in full accord with the need for Urban Renewal but that he felt that if there were any loopholes in phrasing, this was the time to find them, not later than in any court action.

The question was asked by Mrs. Wavie Drew regarding the rise in the estimate of $16,000 to $82,000 for a preliminary survey. The $16,000 figure was given some time ago by a planning consultant as an estimate and was found to be far out of line.

The application asks for a federal grant of $62,000 which will be used to prepare the preliminary survey.

In regard to the amount of money to be spent by the Town on the project, Town Manager Courtney said he felt that the value of the area would at least be doubled and that the subsequent revenue from taxes would more than make the renewal self-supporting.

The Housing Authority left prepared to submit their plans to the Town Counsel for approval.

Tuesday morning Mr. Courtney agreed to present the plan to Mr. Buzzell.

Tax Title Land Sale Postponed Again

The sale of Tax Title land, first scheduled for June 12, then postponed until July 24, has once again been delayed, this time "until further notice".

Apparently town officials have not decided which land to keep for the town and which to put up for public sale.

ST. DOROTHY'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

This evening at eight o'clock at St. Dorothy's Hall, there will be a special meeting for all those interested in the parish barbecue which is to be held late in August. George Szadys of Lloyd Rd., the chairman, will welcome both men and women who are willing to offer their services.

Rev. Fr. Leahy is grateful to the Blitz committee for the proceeds of Tuesday night's party, and to Mrs. Adeline Riley and her assistants for the proceeds of last Friday's Whist. Mrs. John Davidson will sponsor the Whist this coming Friday evening at the hall. Also on Friday evening there will be a teen-age record hop at Villanova Hall at 8:00 p.m. Admission is 50 cents.

There will be a month's mind requiem Mass for Mrs. Mary Gilligan on Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. at St. Mary's. Next Sunday is Communion Sunday for all the men of the parish.

The 11:45 Mass at St. Mary's next Sunday will be offered in thanksgiving by the members of the Beale family, who, after a period of fifty-two years, have met for a grand reunion, coming from far distant places for this happy occasion.

During the summer, Masses at St. Mary's will be at 7:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and on Saturday, at 8:00 a.m. However, on the first Friday of each month, Masses will be at 6:00 and 7:00 a.m. as it was on the first Friday just passed.

Father Leahy wishes that as many of the children as can possibly do so will take advantage of the opportunity to make the nine first Fridays. Also, it would be gratifying to see more of the children at daily Mass.

It was noted that the parish bulletins that were given out on the first Sunday of July listed the time of daily Mass incorrectly. This was due to the fact that they were printed sometime before word was received of the adoption of the new schedule.

JENNIE E. DIGIROLAMO PASSES AWAY

Jennie E. (DiFiore) DiGirolamo, 46 of Sprucewood Rd., passed away at her home, following a long illness.

Besides her husband, Ernest D. DiGirolamo, of Wilmington, she is survived by three children; Robert Ernest and Arlene all of Wilmington; four sisters, Mrs. Angela Russo, of Wilmington; Miss Mary DiFiore, of Chelsea; Mrs. Anna Graziano of Malden; Mrs. Theresa DeCarlo, of So. Boston and three brothers, Anthony DiFiore of Roxbury, Andrew DiFiore of Medford, and Dominic DiFiore of Chelsea. Mrs. DiGirolamo is also being survived by her mother, Mrs. Lucia DiFiore of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held on Monday, July 8, at 8:00 a.m. from the W.S. Cavanaugh and Son Funeral Home on Main St. A solemn high mass was celebrated at St. Thomas' Church at 9:00. Acting as pall bearers were: Norman Eli, Edward Howard, Joseph DeBartolo, Michael DiStefano, John Mannas and Fred DiGirolamo.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of William S. Cavanaugh and Son. Burial was in the Wildwood Cemetery.

STILL VALID

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor has issued a statistical report on employee earnings in retail trade. It is of unusual interest now, because of the proposal that the federal wage-hour law be extended to retailing and to certain other service businesses which have been exempt ever since the law was first passed. And an evaluation of the facts the report discloses certainly indicate that a federally imposed dollar an hour minimum wage on retailing would create havoc and severe economic repercussions.

The report shows, for instance, that wages vary substantially from region to region, and are higher in big cities than in little towns. This is both natural and inevitable—for, in any local business, such as all retailing is, local costs, conditions, customs and needs determine wages. An inflexible minimum wage—applying to a remote village as well as to New York City—would be economically senseless and disruptive in the bargain.

The report also shows that the average rate of pay per hour is lower for part-time employees. These employees are usually housewives or school girls with little or no experience. Their value to the store is small. So, with a high minimum wage, owners and managers would have to eliminate as much of this kind of employment as possible—and thus deprive the unskilled and untrained of jobs, and the opportunity to learn and better themselves.

The average rate of pay also varies materially between different kinds of retail stores. This is because some kinds need and have more highly skilled employees, capable of successfully selling expensive goods, and such people naturally get top wages. Other kinds of stores, dealing in merchandise where no particular experience or selling ability are required, are in an entirely different position.

The reasons why Congress, in session after session, has refused to extend this arbitrary law to retailing were good and valid. Today they are as good and valid as ever.

WILMINGTON FIREMEN'S

Missed up on last weeks column, due to the Holiday the paper went to press a day early. Hope everyone had a nice one, from where I sit certainly looked like it was at least a quiet one, we had a few ambulance runs but other than that we had nothing to speak of which was very good considering the long week-end.

This week finds Lt. Cushing starting his vacation and I guess by the time this appears in Print he will be well on his way.

I took in the V.F.W family outing and cook-out at the Town Park yesterday and believe me it was a wonderful time, with plenty of everything to eat, and judging from the size of the crowd that was there and the satisfied look on their faces I imagine everyone there had a good time as I. Donnie was there and acted as an umpire for the soft ball game, what I would like to know is where did he come by the Red Plaid cap that he started out with?

Charlie is still on vacation, having a good time I hope, although he hasn't been around here, maybe he went after some more of those strippers he didn't get last time.

Some of the information on the Fishing trip has been passed on to me and so far Spike says the Boat we can get will hold 25 or 30 persons, and it will cost us $65.00 which means we will need about 22 men that want to go, we have the boat for 24 hours and the price will include bait lines, and Ice. Any one interested can stop into the Fire station and make reservations with Spike a tentative figure is about $3.00 per person, the date will be announced as soon as you fellows get in your reservations so we can judge the best day to charter the boat, so what say et's hear from You if you are really interested.

Earl Burns and Tom Buckle of the Call force are on vacation also this week. Tom is up in Maine and Earl is hitting the various Beach resorts with his family.

Congratulations to Call man Harry Cutter on the Marriage of his daughter on Saturday.

Still nothing to report on the results of the Lt. Exams as yet. The boys have been pretty busy these days and the station is beginning to look sharp what with its new inside paint job and nice white ceilings, the Chief's office was just done and it looks pretty sharp.

Well I guess that is all for this week so with the Reminder to "remember to use your ash tray and keep Massachusetts Green" I'll sign off until next week.

3 LOCAL BOYS RECEIVE PROMOTIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C. (FETNC) - The Navy Department announced the promotion of Irving F. Belbin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson J. Belbin of 765 Woburn St., Wilmington, to aviation ordnanceman third class while serving aboard the support aircraft carrier USS Antietam.

USS Cadmus.

Joseph H. Surrence, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Surrence of 8 Belmont Ave., Wilmington to interior communications electrician second class while serving aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Canberra.

The promotion followed successful completion of a Navy-wide petty officer examination conducted last February.

LOCAL MEN PARTICIPATE IN CONVENTION

THE WAY THEY DO THINGS IN RUSSIA

The proposal that the TVA be authorized to issue revenue bonds to finance power plant construction has been given considerable support, on the grounds that this would take the burden off the backs of the taxpayers at large. However, it would not correct the basic inequalities in the Tennessee Valley Authority set-up -- as several witnesses before the House Committee on Public Works have made clear.

The revenue bond proposal is nothing but a new device for perpetuating and enlarging TVA as a producer and seller of socialized power. It would in no way get away from the fact that TVA is a tax-free government agency enlarged in a monopolistic commercial business venture which has destroyed taxpaying private enterprise. Nor would it get away from the fact that TVA -- regardless of how it gets future funds -- represents hundreds of millions of tax dollars taken on a purely compulsory basis from citizens of every state in the union.

One spokesman before the House Committee pointed to the one sound solution to the TVA problem. That is to eventually sell TVA's power facilities to local ownership and operation, on the best possible terms. This, of course, will take time. Meanwhile, Congress should require that TVA adopt a rate structure which would cover all costs of production and transmission, repayment of and a fair rate of interest on the taxpayers' investment in power facilities, and the full equivalent of all federal, state and local taxes that a private enterprise carrying on the same business would pay.

The friends of TVA, and the partisans of socialized power generally, look on such proposals with horror. But the fact remains that if it is the job of the government to provide the TVA area with subsidized power, it is the job of the government to do the same thing for all the rest of the country. Then by the simplest extension of logic, it is the job of government to supply us with everything -- food, clothing, entertainment, whatever -- on a subsidized and socialized basis.

That's the way they do things in Russia and the rest of the communist world.

A CHANGE IN THE POLIO PICTURE

With the introduction of the Salk vaccine the polio picture in this country has undergone a radical change. Since this change has a bearing on the health of your entire family, you ought to know about it.

Here's what has happened in the past few years:

Children from five to nine years old used to be one of the largest group of victims. In 1952 they accounted for 24 per cent of all paralytic cases. By now most of these school youngsters have been vaccinated and the proportion of cases among them is declining. In 1956 it dropped to 16 per cent of all cases. That's the bright side of the polio picture.

Of course, with a decline in one age group, there has been a corresponding rise in percentages among other age groups not yet protected by Salk vaccine.

Take pre-school youngters under five years old, for instance. In 1952 they comprised 29 per cent of paralytic cases. In 1956 the proportion had climbed to 39 per cent. Infants one and two-years old had the highest percentage of all. That's why polio authorities like the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis urge that they be first on the vaccination list.

The next most vulnerable group in the new polio picture are teenagers and young adults from 15 to 40 years. In 1952 they comprised 33 per cent of paralytic cases. In 1956 the percentage was 34 per cent. Since polio paralysis is especially disastrous to wage earners in a family, they need protection urgently.

Think these figures over. If your school-age children have been vaccinated, that's fine. But don't forget the other members under 40 in your family, starting with the baby.

JOHNS - MANVILLE HELPS HURRICANE VICTIMS

New York, Special - In response to urgent appeals for temporary shelter from the hurricane stricken areas of Louisiana and Texas, Johns-Manville Corporation revealed today that production was being diverted to supply 135 truck loads of roofing materials, according to V. B. Padham, Local Plant Manager.

It was expected that 80 truck loads from the Company's plants at Marrero, Louisiana, and Fort Worth, Texas would be in the devastated areas by the end of this week, with at least 55 more truck loads to follow rapidly. Some have already arrived. If necessary, to help meet the critical shelter needs, the Company will divert more production from its Waukegan, Illinois Plant, Mr. Padham said.

"We are putting first things first," it was reported to the Company's Headquarters in New York today by teletype from A. C. Seavey, District Manager at New Orleans. "Business as usual has gone out the window while our employees and our jobbers' employees are participating in rescue work, helping in the care of some 40,000 survivors, and identification and burial of the dead. Our people have joined forces with the Houston Texas police, men from the Fourth United States Army and Civil Defense Workers."

"Conditions are still chaotic" in the Lake Charles, Louisiana area. Rescue operations continue over hundreds of square miles of debris - covered swamplands submerged by the tidal wave which followed Hurricane Audrey. We are getting the most urgent appeals to rush temporary shelter materials into areas facing the threat of pestilence as an aftermath of the hurricane's destruction. Volunteers from the New Orleans Police Department have delivered typhus inoculations, a fully equipped first aid truck and a communications truck. Points west of Baton Rouge could not reach us by telephone until late yesterday. We are trying to help these survivors as fast as the Lord will let us."

BIG FAMILIES ARE HAPPIER, NEW STUDY INDICATES

For the first time, sociological research has given us a picture of big-family life. One of America's leading sociologists, Dr. James H. S. Bossard of the University of Pennsylvania, undertook a six-year study of large families, and his report has just been published.

Highlights of Dr. Bossard's work are reported in the July issue of Family Circle Magazine. With Dr. Eleanor Stoker Boll, he made an intensive study of 100 families having from six to 16 children, an average of nine).

Living in 23 states and representing many religious, economic and social backgrounds, these families were considered a cross section of the United States population.

Majority rules - In these big families, group co-operation was more important than catering to individuals.

Meals were typical of this pattern. In 73 of the 100 families, meals were flatly standardized with no provision for individual tastes. We ate what was set before us," the children said. "If we didn't like it, we kept quiet or went without." Special dishes, if prepared at all, were served only during illness or on doctor's orders.

Teamwork - The children in the study learned much about fair play, unselfishness, self-control, and other qualities helpful in getting along with others. The children squabbled, but they rarely held grudges.

Youngsters happily recalled that they played together "all" or "most" of the time; they did not feel the need of outside playmates. Similarly the children worked together, dividing their chores.

EMOTIONAL SECURITY

Four out of five children in the study agreed that large family living brought them emotional security. Even more than parents, older children built this security by consoling younger brothers and sisters when they were sick, rooting for them when they had fights or troubles, helping them with their schoolwork, and even financially assisting them through college or when they married.

FAMILY HAPPINESS

In the 100 families studied, children rated 50 families as happy, 36 as medium-happy, and only 14 as unhappy. Happiness usually increased along with the family's size.

In 37 of the happy families, family customs were clung to. "We sang, read played, and prayed together," was one typical recollection.

CHILDREN'S ADJUSTMENT

The best test of a large family is the way its children adjust as adults. Two out of three children in the study were reported well adjusted grownups; one in four was medium in adjustment; and only one in nine was poorly adjusted.

HAPPY MARRIAGES

Large - family children are good marriage risks. Of the 440 in the study who married, 70 per cent were rated happy by brothers and sisters; 15 per cent were medium happy, and less than

As My Garden Sleeps

By Mari Gold

After the tenth of July, the Japanese Beetles are with us in full force. For those who do not recognize this menace: They are bright green and bronze in color. The larva is cream color and has a pinkish brown head. This beetle is most destructive and is a serious pest to the fruit grower and to gardeners in general. This beetle is here to stay, but it will not always present the problem it does today. If citizens of infected areas would take measure to help control this beetle, conditions would soon improve. Our County Extension Service has a leaflet No. 295, regarding the Japanese Beetle. This leaflet which is available from the University of Mass. would be most helpful. Spray or dust plants as necessary with D.D.T. or any general mixture. One application rarely is sufficient so along with the hot dry weather, we have the Japanese Beetle to contend with.

Spray Nasturtiums, Sweet Peas and Goldenglow with a noctine for black lice or aphes. Aster tips will be attacked by tarnished plant bugs if they are not combat-

ted. The main stems of Dahlias should be kept free of side shoots. In larger varieties a single stalk is best. Remove half the flower buds. Some sort of support must be provided to prevent storm damage. Water well. In pinching off all small side buds on Dahlias and other flowers you allow the strength to be concentrated in strong terminal flowers. This makes larger and better formal flowers. The same is true in removal of small green fruit from fruit trees. This prevents over burdening of the trees and allows the largest and best fruit to mature. Cut back Nepita to four inches and fertilize for August bloom. Phlox, Veronica and Hollyhocks will bloom again if kept from seeding. Petunias if left to seed, will drop their seed and grow again next spring, but they do not come to true color. It is best to keep all seed pods picked.

Early in the spring our eyes search for color in our garden, and now is the time to plan and make changes. On paper, that is. When fall comes, you will be able to rearrange color or design of gardens. Most all gardeners grow Arbris for white, Alysum for yellow, but few people grow Anbrietia which is purple, rose and lavender. This plant is one of the very finest dwarf, spreading plants for borders, rock gardens and walls. It blooms in April and May. It prefers the light soil and full sun. Most all seed catalogs list this plant, but it is early started from seed.

English Daisy (Bellis) is used frequently with tulips in the early days of spring. The plant seldom grows over three inches tall and will produce a single or double flower in pink, rose, red or white. Hot weather is extremely hard on the English Daisy, so they do not last too long after the warm days really arrive. They combine nicely with Pansies and Forget-me-nots. They may well be used for a ground cover for Hyacinths and other spring bulbs. If they are planted from seed in August, the plants will be ready to bloom with other spring flowers. They do however, need winter protection.

The soil in window or porch boxes should be kept in a rich condition. Use plant tablets as they are the most convenient and water daily, as they dry out quickly. If you go on vacation, arrange with your neighbors to keep the boxes watered or they will dry up completely. Also, remember to keep water in your bird bath. The draught is hard on wild life. For several nights running, we heard water splashing in our bath after dark. Wondering what it could be, the other night we heard it again and went out to peek. We held a light on the bird bath and there having both a drink and bath at once was an Owl. A second Owl was perched in the tree above the bath waiting his turn. When an Owl will come within 20 feet of a dwelling, he is really thirsty.

ST. DOROTHY'S BLITZ MOST SUCCESSFUL SO FAR

Last Tuesday's Blitz party, held at 8:00 p.m. at St. Dorothy's Hall was the most successful one of the series. The hall was filled to near capacity and all on hand enjoyed themselves greatly. Members of the Blitz committee judge their success or failure not only on financial gain. Their success is of course figured by the amount of profit, but the amount of enjoyment found by those participating is also taken into consideration. Taking the sum profit and adding the amount of "fun" usually finds a very satisfactory total. This week it was better than ever.

Members of the committee have extended a standing invitation to the people of the area. There is no need to live in Wilmington to attend. Folks have been coming from everywhere to play Blitz. Come on down, bring a few friends, you'll have a wonderful time.

The lucky winners of special prizes last week were: Door prize, Catherine Sammel, Pinehurst; Monthly Attendance prize, Ann Ronney, Wilmington; Broiler, Chris Donahue, Wilmington; lamps, Mrs. William Doherty, Tewksbury; and cards for next week's game, Betty Dixon, Tewksbury.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WILLIAM CONNORTON

William H. Connorton, 57, of Woodside Ave., passed away suddenly in Boston, on June 29. Mr. Connorton was a member of the U.S. Navy during World War One, and at the time of his death, was a member of Post 90, of the American Legion in Melrose. He was a retired electrician and had been in the employ of the Boston Navy Yard.

Besides his wife, Isabell (Webb) he is survived by two children John and Linda.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 2, at 2:00 p.m. from the William S. Cavanaugh and Son Funeral Home on Main St., by Rev. Donald Hickman of the South Methodist Church. Last military honors were performed by a detail of men from the Navy Fargo Building in Boston.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of William S. Cavanaugh. Interment was in the Wildwood Cemetery.

CONTRACT FOR $111,308,359 FOR DEVELOPMENT OF NOSE FOR INTERCONTINENTAL BALLISTIC MISSILE

Largest Peacetime Contract Ever Awarded to Company which Pioneered in Research on ICBM Re-entry Problem

Avco Manufacturing Corporation's Research and Advanced Development Division today disclosed it has been awarded an Air Force contract of $111,308,359 for development of the nose cone of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

It is the largest peacetime contract ever awarded to Avco. The company is developing the nose cone for the Titan version of the ICBM. It is one of the prime contractors engaged in the nation's number one military program - to produce an intercontinental ballistic missile at the earliest possible date. The award is in addition to previously announced facilities and research contracts amounting to $8,051,159, according to Dr. Lloyd P. Smith, president of the division.

News of the contract climaxes the guarded announcement first made 15 months ago that Avco scientists were using a "shock tube" in their research work which stimulates speeds as high as 18,000 miles per hour and temperatures as high as 15,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The shock tube subsequently was described as allowing a scientist shortcut toward solving the thorniest problem in the ballistic missile field - atmospheric re-entry.

Development of the nose cone, - otherwise known as the re-entry vehicle or "business end" of the ICBM - has been regarded as the most difficult aspect of the complex program. The nose cone, hurtling through upper space with its nuclear warhead, must be capable of withstanding enormous friction as it returns to the atmosphere at the end of its 5,000-mile trajectory.

Scientists at the Avco Research Laboratory have obtained significant data on the re-entry problem, through their two years of work with the shock tube. The data, in addition to its application for the Titan ICBM, have been made available to other manufacturers having missile contracts.

The Avco Research and Advanced Development Division has headquarters at Lawrence, Mass., where design and fabrication of nose cone systems are in progress. It is under the direction of Dr. Smith. The Avco Research Laboratory, a unit of the division headed by Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz and located at Everett, Mass., did pioneer research on the ICBM re-entry problem. A third unit devoted to electronics research is located in Boston. In the summer of 1958 the activities of the division will be centered in an ultra-modern new facility now under construction at Wilmington, Mass.

Avco has been engaged in ICBM research and development since 1955. Until recently the company has been operating under letter contracts.

The shock tube simulates speeds and temperatures of the same order as those that might be encountered by an intercontinental ballistic missile nose cone at the end of its journey through space. Shock tube experiments also approximate conditions that must be overcome in launching satellites into an orbit around the earth.

Avco recently announced that it would make shock tubes available to educational institutions as well as to other industries that might require them.

INSTRUMENT OF MONOPOLY

It is said that "The function of the union shop is to furnish the element of control which is essential to complete monopoly."

This is undeniable. The worker's wages and conditions are determined by the union. So is the amount and quality of work he may do. He must strike if the union tells him to. He must abide by any number of rigid rules, even though he may not agree with them.

If a worker fails to obey the union, he loses his membership—and with it his job.

Here, in very brief summary, is why sentiment is growing for right to work laws, which guarantee everyone the right to join or not to join a union, as they voluntarily choose, without dictation from either the employer or the union. If that isn't basic to our boasted free nation, nothing is.

Old Dump Still Causes Trouble

A letter from an attorney representing L. E. Van Steenburg, who owns land adjacent to the old town dump was received by the Selectmen at their meeting last Monday. Mr. Van

Steenburg protested the depression left in his land during filling operations conducted at the last dump fire.
Mr. Van Steenburg said that the depression, three feet below the grade he is trying to maintain, was made the day after the fire.

Town Manager Courtney reported that the fire was still smoldering at the time, and it was necessary to proceed in this manner at the time, and it was necessary to proceed in this manner as the greater part of the fire was located on the Van Steenburg property.

The matter was referred to Town Counsel.

CAKE CONES

Quarter-fill flat-bottom ice cream cones with cake batter (a generous tablespoon of either your own recipe or a mix is enough).
Place cones on a cookie sheet and bake as you'd bake cupcakes. When cool, top with ice cream and decorate with chocolate sprinkles or tiny lollipops.
Children love this all-in-one party sweet. One package of cake mix is enough to fix about 36 cups.

I by-passed last week in hopes of having more news this week, but it doesn't look too good.

I hope everyone had a nice safe holiday. I know we did but I must say I sure missed our own home celebration. Instead of just hoping in the car and going up town we ended up in Salem, for the fireworks. It was worth it though as they had one of the nicest displays of fireworks I've seen since I was a kiddo myself.

Sunday was the big day for the Post. The boys held their Lobster-Cook-Out and as for the people that attended it was a huge success. The boys that worked behind that serving table and around the stoves deserve a lot of credit as it was a job well done. I don't know how it happened, but I understand the ball game between the Legion and V.F.W. came out a tie score.

Just wondering if Don made out by getting any caps or if he ended up with nothing, if Frank got his table and chairs okay, especially his milking stool, how Nicky felt the next day after playing soft ball, if the T.M. got his Lobster this year, if Mrs. Drew enjoyed her day. All in all it was a well spent day and enjoyed by everyone.

COMMERCE BETTER THAN AID

When we think of American contributions to the betterment of the other nations of the free world, we often think exclusively of what the government has done. That is one result of the much publicized huge foreign aid programs of the post-war era.

But many an American industry is making - in the normal course of business - very important contributions in this field. Coal is such an industry.

Last year American's coal exports were the largest in history. They are running at very high levels this year, and that is expected to continue. The reason, as an official of the Coal Exporters Association puts it, is that "Europe's economy is continuing its post-World War II growth and the coal industry of England and the Continent simply cannot provide the coal required. . .

Without American coal, many basic European industries would be in dire straits. That includes the metallurgical industries, on which a nation's economic welfare and military security both so largely depend.

So when you think of what we are doing on behalf of the free world, give industry the credit it deserves.

WHY FARM PROGRAMS HAVE FAILED

Secretary of Agriculture Benson points out that over a period of 25 years we have spent something like $12 billion on the federal farm-aid program. He then says, "These costs undoubtedly would be borne willingly if the program solved the problems, but the problems have not been solved." Furthermore, he continues, all that spending has made "little or no contribution to the problem of low-income farmers."

The Wall Street Journal, in a lengthy editorial based on the Secretary's statement, sums up the varied reasons why federal intervention in agriculture has been a failure. The most basic of those reasons, in its view, "... is the assumption of farm legislators and administrators over the years that they could defy, indefinitely and with impunity, the laws of the market place." The classic example of this was the continuation of rigid 90 per cent of parity price supports for basic crops long after the emergency conditions brought on by World War II had passed, with the vast surpluses that resulted. Summing up, the Journal says, "... the goal must be a gradual return to a free market in agriculture. No other conclusion, indeed, is possible."

Even in this period of arbitrary and unrealistic price supports for the basic field crops, other major crops have moved in the free market to the advantage of all concerned. The outstanding example is livestock. There have been seasons and years when livestock prices were lower than producers liked—just as there have been seasons and years when meat prices were higher than consumers thought reasonable. But the prices, whether high or low, were determined by the natural law of supply and demand—not by fallible human beings. The meat moved into the channels of consumption and was eaten—instead of moving into storage. And the meat industry is on a sound and healthy basis.

THE RECORD

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce has issued a factual chronology of the famous Hells Canyon dispute over whether private enterprise or a federal agency should develop the hydroelectric power potential of the Snake River. It certainly shows at least one thing—how adept the socializers are at blocking needed work of this kind.

In June, 1947, the Idaho Power Company filed a preliminary application for a license with the Federal Power Commission. Public power groups objected, and proposed a federal high dam.

In April, 1950, the Senate voted to table the federal project by a two-to-one margin. Later that year the private company filed formal application with the FPC for a license to construct the first of a series of dams. Both the interior Department and several public power groups protested this application.

In May, 1953, the Secretary of the Interior withdrew the Department's objection to the application. The private company then submitted to FPC its complete proposal for development of power at Hells Canyon.

FPC engineers and examiners spent 44,000 man-hours in studying the company's three dam proposal and held hearings over a full year during which every conceivable pro and con was argued. In August, 1955, the FPC issued a license to the company.

Public power groups then went into the federal courts. This legal stratagem finally failed when the Supreme Court refused to interfere with the FPC's licensing order, and thus upheld its validity and the right of the private company to develop the power. Meanwhile, the Senate again rejected a bill which would have authorized federal development.

Now, to quote the Council, "In the face of this history the Senate is about to debate and vote on a Hells Canyon bill for the third and, presumably, last time."

How much blockading of needed power projects will the American people stand?

TOUGH COMBINATION

By the end of this year, the railroads will have installed some 150,000 new freight cars costing more than $1,250,000 in a 24-month period. They currently have 100,000 cars on order—more than a year's deliveries even at the present accelerated rate of car-building.

This illustrates several things. It shows that the railroads are going all-out to meet the needs of shippers. It shows also that the cost of doing this is enormous. Finally, it points to a major financial problem the railroads must grapple with. The new freight cars cost $8,500 each and in many instances they replace cars which cost only $2,500. The depreciation which has been acquired on a $2,500 car is not enough to finance the $8,500 investment in its replacement. Consequently, additional funds must be found in huge amounts.

That might not be so serious a matter if the railroads were earning adequate profits. But they aren't. Their earnings are running at an average of less than 4 per cent on net investment—among the lowest of all major industries. What it all adds up to has been expressed in a sentence by President Faricy of the Association of American Railroads. Finding the money for new freight cars, he said, "is made vastly more difficult by the combination of the low level of railroad earnings, the 52 per cent corporate federal income tax on those earnings, and the inflationary pressures which have rendered depreciation reserves completely inadequate for the replacement of worn-out equipment."

This financial problem, moreover, has fallen on the most basic and essential of all forms of land transportation. Thus it is a problem of moment to the entire country.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING SET FOR AUGUST 8

The Board of Selectmen set Thursday, August 8, as the date for the special town meeting last Monday. The action followed receipt of a letter from the chairman of the Elementary School Building Committee, Dave Elfman, requesting the meeting as a result of the need to change the wording of last spring's warrant article requesting money for the Glen Road School. The wording will be changed from "the sum of $800,000" to "not to exceed $800,000".

This action stems from the refusal of the Emergency Finance Board to approve a bond issue for the town, over the debt limit, unless this wording was altered.

Moderator Simon Cutter, who plans to be in Europe from July 19 to August 6, will be able to conduct the meeting at this date.

All articles to be included in the warrant must be received by July 22, in order to be in the hands of the printers in time.

B & M Agrees To Clean Culvert

A long standing problem to the Oulette brothers of Westdale Ave., appears to be reaching a solution.

The brothers, Alfred and Francis, have been bothered for some years by water backing up as a result of stoppage of a culvert under the railroad tracks near their homes. After protesting to the Board of Selectmen a few months ago, a letter was sent to the B & M requesting that they investigate.

Monday evening the Selectmen received a letter stating that the RR would clean the drain.

Blitz Parties Getting Bigger All The Time

On Tuesday evening, July 1, St. Dorothy's Hall on Main St., held the largest crowd yet for a Blitz Party. Over one hundred people turned out to join in the fun. The hall was practically jumping, but if you had been there, there would have been room for you. At Dorothy's Blitz parties, there is always room for you and your friends.

This week's winners included: Door prize, Helen Kulka of Carter Lane, an out-door barbeque was awarded to Alice Sullivan of Jones Ave., table lamps were won by Shirley Rooney of Marjorie Rd. and the cards for next week went to Mary Fuller of Main Street.

The Monthly attendance prize for July will be a lawn table and umbrella. This special piece of equipment would look well on anyone's lawn, why not come on down and try your luck. It will be drawn on July 23, and you must be there to win. This is an attendance prize.

ADULT TENNIS CLASSES TO BE HELD

Due to the many requests for adult instruction in tennis the Recreation Commission will offer one week of evening instruction as an experiment in meeting these demands. Mr. Joseph Gilligan present instructor for the regular daily classes will be available for information and instruction in the fundamentals and basic skills of beginners during the week of July 15th to 19th inclusive.

Lessons will be given on the new High school courts each evening between the hours of 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. starting Monday evening and continuing until Friday evening.

Men and women are invited to seek Mr. Gilligan's services but are reminded that although it is a service of the Recreation Commission with no fee attached that they must however furnish their own tennis racquets. During this period arrangements for individual instruction may be made for later afternoon periods according to the adult working schedule.

Children seeking lessons are reminded that during this week the afternoon lessons will be cancelled.

Safety Tip: When you're driving at high speeds for long distances, the motion of the car fools you, warns the Triple-A. You THINK you're not going as fast as you really are. At high speeds, Keep Your Distance from other cars. A bad smash-up can take place in a split second.

Chapin Chatter

The Fourth of July has certainly changed an awful lot in a short space of time. Most of us can remember when it consisted of making as much noise as one possibly could. There was always reports the following day of people getting burned, fingers blown off, etc. This past Fourth I only heard an occasional firecracker, and it seemed like any other weekend day, if anything, quieter.

We went to the North Shore Music Theatre on Route 128 in Beverly to see "The Teahouse of the August Moon". That is a unique experience if you have never seen the place. Every seat in the theater is a perfect one. You can see all the stage at all times, as well as the stage crew in action. It is necessary to use your imagination somewhat, but strangely enough this enhances the performance rather than detracting from it. Stage plays have been performed for thousands of years, and theaters have been built for almost a like number of years, yet in the last few years this type of circular theater has come into being, and provides the ultimate in viewing pleasure of the audience. There is always ways and means to improve anything, no matter how long it has been done.

The first oil burner was made about 1885, or 72 years ago. The industry really began to progress about 1920, and oil burners brought a new convenience and comfort to the home. In 20 years everyone in the industry thought that oil burners had reached nearly perfection. Then along came the WINKLER LOW PRESSURE OIL BURNER.

This burner burned oil so much more completely, cleanly, and with so much less trouble that dealers grabbed the Winkler franchise like mad. CHAPIN-NICHOLS was one of the first of these in this area, and we have never lost our enthusiasm for it since, because it burns less oil than any other oil burner, and gives longer lasting trouble free service to the customer. Once you install a WINKLER OIL BURNER you can forget about oil burners for the rest of your life, it's built to last that long, and to perform at peak efficiency over your lifetime.

Call us at Reading 2-3290 and we will be glad to demonstrate it to you under actual firing conditions in your own back yard, or see it on Channel 7 at 11:00 P.M. Sunday evening on the Yankee Network News.

Best Regards,
Paul Rimbach
